BIBLIOGRAPHIE AMÉRICANISTE 1914-1919,

PAR

P. RIVET.

La guerre ayant interrompu notre publication, je me suis trouvé, lors de la cessation des hostilités, en présence d'un nombre considérable de travaux parus, de 1914 à 1919, tant dans les pays neutres, où la vie scientifique a été peu influencée par les événements, que dans les pays belligérants. Il était impossible de songer à faire de toutes ces publications des analyses critiques comme nous avions coutume de le faire jusqu'ici.

J'aurais pu faire un choix parmi elles et donner, de celles qui m'auraient paru les plus intéressantes ou de portée plus générale, des comptes rendus détaillés. Je n'ai pas cru devoir le faire, en raison de la difficulté que comporte un tel choix, chacun ayant tendance à préférer les travaux qui se rapportent plus directement à ses recherches personnelles.

C'est pourquoi j'ai pris la décision de donner simplement une liste de tous les livres et mémoires, parus pendant la période considérée. Cette liste est fatalement assez incomplète, surtout en ce qui concerne les travaux allemands et autrichiens, dont un petit nombre nous est parvenu jusqu'ici. Elle sera complétée dans le prochain numéro.

Telle qu'elle est, je crois qu'elle facilitera aux chercheurs de tous pays, détournés de leur labeur par d'autres devoirs, la reprise de leurs études.

Puisse ce travail contribuer, dans quelque mesure, à la reprise de la vie scientifique internationale !
